31st March - 1st & 4th April Training • 2nd-3rd April Conference & Expo

Why Attend

The TM Forum event in India in 2007 was sold out with over one-third of attendees in management positions and we are on track to have more service providers than ever before.

This event builds on the challenges rising from huge subscriber growth as the Indian market goes through a state of transition and rapidly becomes a global centre for innovation and development.

Hear the latest thinking from top executives on how to build winning operational solutions to remain profitable.

Learn how to build world-class scalable operational systems that are flexible enough to manage the latest services and revenue streams and at the same time run your company with the most effective operational systems and processes.

Networking

TM Forum Management World has become the largest, highest rated OSS/BSS event series for a variety of reasons. But it's the networking opportunities that make it stand out above the competition. Nearly 50% of attendees say the primary reason they attend Management World is to network.

That is why we have numerous breaks during the day, receptions in the Expo hall and networking lunches.
